

Alphabet Organizer Exemplar: Retelling the story of the Three Little Pigs

A little pig had two brothers.	Being resourceful, the brothers found different objects to build their homes.	Cunningly, Wolf watched the pig-brothers, hoping for a yummy meal.	Doing his best, the first pig made his house of straw.	Even better was the brother who made his house of sticks.
Finally, the third brother finished his house of bricks.	Gosh, you took a long time" said his first brother.	"Heck, we've been out swimming, roasting marshmallows and doing nothing," said the second.	"I have been taking my time," said the third brother.	"Just because you got done first, doesn't mean your house is best!"
Keeping watch over the nicely cleansed pigs, Wolf considered his approach.	Later that day, the wolf became very hungry.	Meandering up to the First Little Pigs' house, he said, "Let me in."	"Not by the hair of my chinny-chin-chin!" squealed the pig.	"Oh, I guess I'll huff and I'll puff and I'll blow your house in," threatened Wolf.
Poor Pig! His house was blown away by Wolf.	Quickly he sprinted to the second's pig's house.	Running to his brothers, the wolf followed.	"Same deal," said the wolf, "I'm going to blow your house in if you don't let me in."	The pigs didn't answer; the wolf huffed and puffed.
Utterly afraid, the brothers than ran to the Brick house.	"Very smart, my brothers," said the third brothers!	Wolf then attempted to blow in the third house.	(e) Xcellently, the brick house was too strong and too well made to be blown in.	"Y(Z)ou took your time and built a good house and saved us from Wolf. Thanks brother!"
